Presenting Denver Launches New Dance Hub Website

Presenting Denver launched a new dance hub website this week as part of their continued commitment to the Denver metro area to support and promote movement as an innovative art form.

“We are thrilled with the new website content and the engagement for our community. Presenting Denver’s goal is to be our community’s leading hub for all things dance. We are actively seeking volunteers and audience members interested in dance as an innovative art form to join our movement,” said Meredith Hutson, Executive Director for Presenting Denver. “We are grateful to Denver for the opportunity to share dancer’s passion and amplify their voice.”

Discover what’s happening and meet the Denver Metro dance community by going to www.presentingdenver.org, today. Presenting Denver’s current projects include a Ticket Subsidy Program in partnership with Newman Center Presents, offering affordable access to see world-renowned dance in Denver, The Commentary Corner featuring Denver dance reviews and special stories, and In The Spotlight, featuring spotlighted members of the Denver dance scene who support the creation and expansion of Colorado dance.

Presenting Denver features its own Community Directory, Community Calendar, and official dance Hub, featuring resources for dancers posted by individual artists and dance organizations. The Hub includes night-out-on-the-town options for interested audience goers, as well as an area for professional artists to promote special events, employment opportunities, and other community news.

Readers and art lovers, also keep an eye open for Perspectives, a special biennial multi-media mash up project launched in 2015 to embrace all Denver metro artists; dancers, choreographers, poets, authors, musicians, painters, all the many forms of artistic talent within Presenting Denver’s esteemed community.
